Report on World Environment Day Celebration – 2025

Name of Event: World Environment Day Celebration

Theme of Event: Restoring Our Earth

Date: June 5, 2025

Day: Thursday

Venue: Bareilly International University, Bareilly

Event Overview

On June 5, 2025, Bareilly International University celebrated World Environment Day with an inspiring plantation drive aimed at promoting environmental awareness among students and NSS volunteers. Organized jointly by BIU College of Pharmacy and the Faculty of Paramedical Sciences, the event emphasized the importance of tree plantation as a key step in restoring our earth.

The program was conducted under the able guidance and coordination of NSS Program Officers Mr. Prashant Kumar Sharma and Mr. Ankit Kumar. Both officers motivated students and volunteers to recognize their responsibility toward environmental protection and actively contribute to a greener planet.

Event Highlights

Medicinal Plant Plantation Drive:

The central highlight of the event was the plantation of 100 medicinal plants on the university campus. These plants were carefully selected for their educational and medicinal value, especially beneficial for pharmacy students in their academic studies and future research.

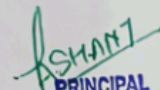

Participation of Students:

Around 120 students from the Faculty of Paramedical Sciences and BIU College of Pharmacy actively participated in the plantation drive. Their enthusiastic involvement showcased a growing awareness of the importance of environmental conservation among the youth.

Chief Guest Address – Dr. Pushpendra Kannoja:

The event was graced by the esteemed presence of Dr. Pushpendra Kannoja, Principal of BIU College of Pharmacy, as the chief guest. He inaugurated the plantation drive by planting a sapling and addressed the gathering with an encouraging message. "It is our duty to preserve the greenery of our planet and ensure that each one of us plants at least one tree every year," he said, inspiring everyone to adopt sustainable practices.

Motivational Message by Dr. Prashant Gupta:

Dr. Prashant Gupta, Head of the Faculty of Paramedical Sciences, also shared a motivational message with the students. He emphasized the critical role of the younger generation in environmental conservation and urged everyone to make plantation and care for plants a regular habit.

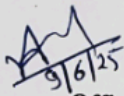

Message from the Vice-Chancellor:

Dr. Lata Agrawal, Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor of Bareilly International University, extended her best wishes for the successful execution of the program. In her message, she said, "World Environment Day reminds us that by living in harmony with nature, we can secure a better future for all."

Conclusion

The World Environment Day celebration at Bareilly International University was a meaningful step towards fostering environmental consciousness and sustainability among students and staff. The plantation of 100 medicinal plants not only supported ecological restoration but also provided educational value for future pharmacists and paramedical professionals.

The event successfully instilled a sense of responsibility towards nature in all participants and demonstrated how simple, collective efforts can significantly contribute to a healthier and greener planet.
